

Newsflash3

Puerto Vallarta is on the same latitude and the Hawaiian Islands. The winter months, October through June are warm and dry with an average daytime temperature of 26° C. The summer months are considerably warmer, not so much in temperature but in humidity. There are dramatic rains that never last for long but weathering one will explain why our sidewalks are so high above the street.